"CALIFORNIA CHROME: A RACE FOR THE DREAM"Through 9/25/16

Featuring artifacts from the personal collections of owners Perry Martin and Steve Coburn, this all new exhibit explores the life of California Chrome, the California-bred horse who capped a six-race winning streak by sweeping the 2014 Kentucky Derby and Preakness Stakes. Through a display of never-before-publicly-displayed items including the 2014 Kentucky Derby and Preakness trophies, the exhibit chronicles the rise of "the people's horse" from his humble foaling at Harris Ranch in Coalinga, CA to his ranking as the 2014 American Horse of the Year. In addition, highlights of the state's long association with the sport are also featured through artifacts depicting world-renowned racetrack Del Mar; unlikely champion and symbol of American hope during the Great Depression, Seabiscuit; 4-time Kentucky Derby-winning jockey Willie Shoemaker; and more. For more information, visit <http://www.californiamuseum.org/california-chrome>.

"POWER OF THE PEOPLE: VOTING IN CALIFORNIA, 1850-2016"

Through 11/13/16

Through artifacts and memorabilia on loan from the California State Archives, California State Parks and local collectors, the exhibit underscores that the voters have always held the power to shape California's future. Just in time for the 2016 elections, it surveys the evolution of how we vote, who votes, and the methods campaigns use to win our vote, from the state's founding to today. Artifacts highlighting significant California elections on display include: 1864 absentee ballots introduced for enlisted Civil War troops; 1911 ballot reflecting the passage of women's suffrage; campaign memorabilia from the 2003 gubernatorial recall election; and more. For more information, visit <http://www.CaliforniaMuseum.org/Voting-CA>.

ONGOING SIGNATURE EXHIBITS:

"CALIFORNIA'S REMARKABLE WOMEN"

This exhibit honors California women's significant roles and achievements, drawing its inspiration from their past and present accomplishments. In doing so, it delivers an energetic message about the limitless opportunities and possibilities awaiting present and future generations of women leaders. From farm worker organizer Dolores Huerta to astronaut Sally Ride to designer Ray Eames, the exhibit includes approximately 200 remarkable California women. Inspired by former First Lady Maria Shriver, the exhibit is presented in partnership with California State Parks. For more information, visit <http://www.californiamuseum.org/californias-remarkable-women>.

"CALIFORNIA INDIANS: MAKING A DIFFERENCE"

Developed under the direction of a Native Advisory Council over a two year period, "California Indians: Making A Difference" is the only exhibit of its kind in the state to present the unique contributions of California's Native Peoples in their own voice. Through artifacts, original art, oral histories and an interactive language kiosk, the exhibit chronicles over 150 tribes' histories and cultural legacies. Highlights of rare artifacts, many of which have never been publicly exhibited before, include the Chipped Stone Bear, California's official prehistoric artifact; baskets woven by Native artists; a bobcat and lynx fur cape owned by Ishi; and more. For more information, visit <http://www.californiamuseum.org/california-indians-making-difference>.

"CALIFORNIA MISSIONS: A JOURNEY ALONG THE EL CAMINO REAL"

Designed to correspond with State standards for 4th grade students, this exhibit includes rare artifacts from Missions across the state, such as iron tools handmade at Mission Santa Barbara, a marriage registry document written by Father Junípero Serra, an 1893 painting of Mission San Luis Rey on an original tile from that mission, and more. In addition, a new oral history series brings this pivotal chapter of history into the present through the modern perspective of Andrew A. Galvan, the first Native curator of Mission Dolores in San Francisco. <http://www.californiamuseum.org/california-missions> .

"HEALTH HAPPENS HERE"

Learn how and why your zip code determines how long and how well you live in the multimedia exhibit "Health Happens Here." Discover what Californians are doing to build health in communities across the state in this interactive journey through all the places and all the ways health happens in California. Through a series of high-tech games and interactive stations, visitors explore key factors that affect health beyond traditional diet and exercise while earning points that can be donated to 1 of 10 charities to make health happen for all Californians. Winner of the American Alliance of Museum's "Excellence In Exhibition" award, the exhibit's games are also available on a micro web site at <http://www.HealthHappensInCA.org>.

"UPROOTED! JAPANESE AMERICANS DURING WORLD WAR II"

Featuring members of the local Sacramento Japanese American community, this exhibit presents personal stories highlighting stories of immigration and internment during World War II as well as the successful fight for redress for the loss of constitutional rights. Artifacts on display include photographs, art, ephemera, camp-made crafts and more. For more information, visit <http://www.californiamuseum.org/uprooted>.

"WE ARE ALL CALIFORNIANS: STORIES OF MODERN IMMIGRATION"

An all new signature exhibit, "We Are All Californians: Stories of Modern Immigration" examines the journeys of immigrants to the Golden State in the 21st century. Through first-person narratives presented on an interactive 20-ft. multimedia wall, the personal stories of immigrants from countries around the globe explore how immigrants pursue the California dream, revealing how the changing face of California will shape the state's future. In addition, visitors may record a 30 second oral history documenting their journey in the "California Stories" adjoining kiosk. For more information, visit <http://www.californiamuseum.org/we-are-all-californians>.
